Medellin, November 12, 2021. Grupo Nutresa has been once again acknowledged as the most sustainable food company in the world, according to the the 2021 Dow Jones Sustainability Indices. The Dow Jones Sustainability Indices consist in a set of indicators that aggregate the companies with the best performances in the economic, social and environmental dimensions. The ranking is run by S&P Global Ratings, one of the most important credit rating agencies globally, along with Moody's Investors Service and Fitch Ratings.

The Organization's continued presence in this index for eleven consecutive years reflects the deep commitment, strong leadership and consistent hard work of its entire team in the search for the best social, environmental and economic practices and their effective implementation. Moreover, it is also an acknowledgment of Grupo Nutresa's corporate capability to create value for society as a whole.

Carlos Ignacio Gallego, Grupo Nutresa CEO, stated: "For Grupo Nutresa, sustainability is the business strategy that enables us to thrive along with society. Over the past years, we have focused our efforts on value generation for all our stakeholders, as well as on the care for people's life and health, the promotion of diverse and inclusive environments and the preservation of our planet. We have worked on these achievements based on the leadership of a highly capable and committed team".

¹As of November 12, 2021, Grupo Nutresa ranked in the 100% percentile within the food industry in the context of S&P's Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment, which means that Grupo Nutresa obtained the highest ESG (environmental, social and governance) score.
