Grupo Nutresa, in the top 5% of food products industry according to the S&P Global Sustainable1 Yearbook

- Grupo Nutresa ranked within the top 5% in the food products industry. The assessment included more than 7.800 companies from 61 different industries.
- Being part of this Yearbook since 2011 sheds light on the effective sustainable practices developed jointly with the multiple stakeholders to create value in the long term.

Medellin, February 7, 2023. After being confirmed and honored in December 2022 as the most sustainable food company in the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index (DJSI), Grupo Nutresa was once again included in the S&P Global Sustainable1 Yearbook, ranking in the top 5% score of the publication's Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA).

The S&P Global Sustainable1 Yearbook comprises 7.800 assessments conducted within the framework of the Corporate Sustainability Assessment.

The remarkable performance in this assessment is the outcome of the resilience, leadership and conscientious work of Grupo Nutresa's entire team, which shares the same purpose: Building a better world where development is for everyone. The following practices were highlighted in the assessment process:

- In the social dimension: the work focused on health and nutrition, the development of the human capital and the Company's social reporting.
- In the environmental dimension: outstanding practices related to packaging, impact valuation and environmental reporting.
- In the economic dimension: the Organization obtained the top results in terms of innovation management, risk and crisis management, and tax strategy.

Carlos Ignacio Gallego, Grupo Nutresa's CEO, made the following remarks on the subject: "Sustainability is a capability that enables us to consistently create value for society in the long term, further guiding us in the search for progress and well-being for both people and our planet. To be included in this Yearbook, and in the select group of the most sustainable companies from the food industry, reflects the valuable work carried out by our entire team with the collaboration of each one of our stakeholders, as well as the execution of sustainable practices that allow us to build a better world where development is for everyone".
